

High Voltage Operator

You can generate as much renewable energy as you like, but without me it's not going anywhere. I connect the high voltage electricity grid together. Underground conduits, overhead lines, you name it I'm connecting it. It's thanks to me that we can move electricity from site to substation to the community.

Environment

Outdoor project sites & substations

Using hands and tools to control or feel objects

Working at heights

Working with hands

Solving problems

Being creative

Working with people

Leading and guiding

Data and details

Skills

- Building and Construction
- English Language
- Education and Training
- Public Safety and Security
- Transportation

Qualifications

- Certificate III or IV electrical power line or cable joining
- Often part of an apprenticeship.
- Licensing or registration required

Benefits

56%

higher salary*

DECLINE

in future demand expected

*Average of all Australian occupations